By GEORGE CONSIDINE.

London, July 7.-The world's lightweight championship title changed hands after twenty rounds of the most remarkable fight, I ever saw. Perhaps the most remarkable feature of all is the fact that neither Freddie Welsh, who won the decision so far as the referee was able to announce it, nor Willie Ritchie, who started fully 200 potential knockouts without landing one below which even staggaged his adversary.

Viewed from this angle Freddie Welsh won the fitte more easily than any won the fitte more easily than any challenger of any division who ever an-nexed a world's championship title, for Freddie never was even slowed up by Ritchie, while the latter was coming more strongly in the twentieth than in any other round of the fight.

Again in the thirteenth Willie landed the same right straight on Welsh's nose, opening an old cut on that member. In the seventeenth Ritchie caught Welsh square on the jaw as the latter was o straightening out of a crouch, but these wallops only gave the Welsh supporters an instant of apprehension and non- of them compared in force with the many others Ritchie started that did not land. As hard as it is to admit it. I've got to say that Weish went out in front from the tap of the gong and with each succeeding round increased the lead.

It was refre

Decision Not Heard.

Ritchie and Referee Corri were both literally shoved out of the ring onto the floor—and if any decision was amounced it was certainly not from within the ropes and it is equally certain that no-body heard it. I had little heart to witness the antics of ten thousand raving.

Bert Shotten contributed the fleiding spasmodic vocalisms that would have witness the antics of ten thousand raving madmen hurtling down and out of the McNaught.p. 1 0 9 0 1 madmen hurtling down and out of the balconies over the chairs in one mad effort to get to the ring and shake hands with their new champion.
